

Call for Volunteers!!

Water work is labor intensive and we need plenty of volunteers for both workshop and trial to make it happen. This includes two full days of workshop on Friday and Saturday, the Sunday trial day, and set up/tear down.

No experience is necessary—there are a variety of jobs and we will train you if you want to learn new skills. The schedule will avoid conflicts with your entries. You're encouraged to volunteer even if you are not participating in the workshop or trial.

Please fill out your volunteer form and submit it with your workshop or trial entry so we can get a schedule set in advance. Day-of-event volunteers are also accepted— if you come, pitch in to lighten the load!

Water Workshop

Water Workshops with Cindy McCullough will be held Friday and Saturday July 20-21. This year we have workshop sessions tailored to ALL levels.

This includes an Intro to Water session for those completely new to water work who are wondering how to get started, and as an intro for young dogs with more experienced handlers. There is also a session that focusses on the new, still evolving Master Water Dog level, as well as the AWD/WWD and WWD/CWD sessions.

Each session will be a half day, and working teams are welcome to audit the other half day at no extra charge. See the Water Workshop information for details.

Senior Challenge

The second annual PNWPWDC Senior Challenge will be held in conjunction with the trial on Sunday July 22.

The challenge is open to dogs 10 and older and gives our senior dogs a chance to participate and continue their love of the sport. Each team will choose three exercises to perform from ANY of the regular trial levels. Regulation equipment is required, but dog life jackets are permitted. The Senior Challenge will be officiated by Amanda Ford. Time will probably be mid-day on Sunday, but is subject to change.

Dogs will receive a special participation award on Sunday during the regular water trial awards. Entry limited to 5 dogs due to time constraints. See the Senior Challenge information for details.
